

Products Prohibited for Sale

1. Cigarettes, cigarette holders or other tobacco products, as well as products containing nicotine.
2. Alcoholic beverages, as well as foods containing more than a negligible amount of alcohol.
3. Firearms (including air guns), parts of firearms, sets of firearms, gunpowder and other ammunition, and weapons.
4. Parts of whales, dolphins, sharks, elephants (including ivory) and other plants and animals protected by laws as being endangered species or products derived therefrom.
5. Used vehicles, used vehicle parts.
6. All devices, drugs and nutritional supplements or similar substances that are only available in pharmacies or require a prescription from a physician or other clinical staff to be purchased, or products prohibited by the Federal Institute for Drugs and Medical Devices (BfArM).
7. DVDs.
8. Products that promote racism, hatred, discrimination.
9. Nazi souvenirs (or similar products).
10. Weapons designed to cause bodily harm (not just lethal force).
11. Fireworks or other pyrotechnic articles.

12. Medical implants or parts of the human body, with the exception of human hair.

13. Products that are subject to age restrictions in any EU country.

14. Products that irreparably damage the honor / dignity of another person, are aimed at children and contain violent, pornographic or other illegal material or are otherwise harmful to children.

15. Products that cannot be legally owned, sold or distributed in any EU country.

16. Products whose sale or distribution is restricted under the laws of any EU country.

By pressing the "ACCEPT" button, the person confirms that it has read all the clauses of the Agreement, including the appendices and any references thereto, that they are clear to it, that as a result of pressing the "ACCEPT" button it will acquire the status of USER and that it is entering into this Agreement under general terms and conditions, of its own free will, without being in extreme need or under threat, as well as that it has the ability and representative power to bind the entity (in the case of a legal entity) and is not subject to injunctive relief (in the case of an individual).